DONOR'S ADVERTISE.—The Madison Fair was not advertised here, hence the R. R. Agent sold out seven tickets to Richmond by the Extension train.

SINGER SEWING MACHINE.—Mr. Peyton Parrott is agent for this excellent machine and is prepared to furnish it to the people of Lincoln, on the most liberal terms. Persons in need of a machine, would do him and themselves a favor by addressing him at Stanford.

SMALL CHANGE.—Phantom Hop at Crab Orchard, to night. One hundred Excursionists leave for Cincinnati this morning, on the $2.50 colored excursion train.

The Union Express went into effect on the 20th. All the Adams boys are retained. Combination stock sale at Danville Fair grounds to-day.

C. F. BURMAN.—A petition gotten up by Col. T. P. Hill and signed by a large number of responsible citizens asking President Hayes to appoint Hon. Curtis F. Burman, of Madison, to the vacant U. S. Court Judgeship, was in circulation yesterday. Mr. Burman is without doubt the choice of this community.

GOVERN.—Capt. G. H. McKinney goes up head in the good business. He has five which measure as follows: First, five-three inches in length and nine and a half inches in diameter; second, forty-four inches long and eight and a half in diameter; third, forty-two inches long and eleven in diameter; fourth, forty and a half inches long; fifth, thirty-seven inches long. The two latter are growing at the rate of three inches a day.

NEW HOUSE.—Mr. A. A. Warren has contracted with Mr. E. A. Terhune for the building of a neat little cottage on Danville street. The carpenter's work of Mr. George W. Bobbitt's new building is completed, and is a decided improvement on the old one. The adjuster of the Aetna Insurance Company called on him last week, and after a good deal of talk, paid him the amount of policy, less a small amount.

NO BETTER TIME.—There is no better time to lay in a supply of what one may need in the way of goods for Fall use than the present. The merchant who dislikes to carry over any part of a stock of goods will sell them to you cheaper now than he will later in the year. At any rate we are advised by Hayden Brothers that such is their intention, and you can get of that firm, scores of articles at lower figures than at any time in the past. Their goods are all of the best qualities.

STILL BEST.—While many business men are inclined to sit back idle during this seemingly dull time of the year, and put forth but feeble efforts to sell goods, we observe that Hayden Brothers are yet wide awake and alive to their own, and the best interests of their customers. They are neither afraid nor too stingy to let the public know what they have to sell, and regardless of what their goods may have cost some weeks or months ago, they offer them for sale at almost any price to suit the people who may need them.

HUSTONVILLE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.—The attention of the reader is directed to the advertisement of this College, which appears in another column. Prof. J. S. Reppert, the principal, is a gentleman of fine literary attainments, and his long experience in the school-room has given him a thorough knowledge of the best methods of imparting instruction. He holds testimonials from some of the finest educators, besides other eminent men of the State. The Professor will be assisted by a competent faculty, and we speak thereof with knowledge, when we say that the Music teacher, Miss Cook, has but few superiors in her department.

THIEF SHOT.—Wednesday night, Mr. Allen Beasley was awakened by the noise of some one trying to get in his granary. He arose, ran out, and seeing the door open, fired into it, then taking a candle, he searched the building but could find no one. Yesterday morning, however, he discovered a track of blood leading from the granary to the straw stack. There the thief, who was undoubtedly shot, appears to have laid down, a puddle of blood indicating the spot. From that point to the railroad, more blood was found, but after the road was reached the track disappeared. At present, suspicion is not directed to any one, but it is hoped for the good of the community that the dead body of the scamp will be found in a day or two, and his identity fully established.

THE "FASHION."—This magnificent time piece, now being sold by the agents of the Southern Calendar Clock Co., of St. Louis, in this vicinity, is taking like hot cakes, over one hundred having been sold in this county alone in two weeks. Besides pointing the day of the month, the day of the week, the hour, the minute and the second with wonderful accuracy, it is a handsome piece of furniture, which must be seen to be appreciated. The clever manager of the agency, Mr. H. C. Lynch, whose headquarters is at the St. Asaph Hotel, has thousands of testimonials from those who have purchased the "Fashion," and it is with pleasure that we add our testimony to its many excellencies, after a thorough test of all that is claimed for it. These Clocks are sold only by the agents, and we would advise those who wish to buy, not to let the opportunity slip.

A LAW, NOT A LAW, AFTER IT IS VIOLATED.—One day this week, the Town Marshal acting in obedience to a Town Ordinance in regard to hogs running loose on the streets, put John Dudders's hogs, with some others, in the pound, and left a negro boy to guard them. The same night Dudders went to the pound, and after abusing the boy took his hogs and drove them home. For this high-handed procedure, he was arrested next day on a warrant charging him with a breach of the peace, and although the evidence against him was as given above, "Squire Portman (Judge Rochester having been sworn off the bench) discharged him, giving as one, among other reasons, that the hog-law had not having been strictly enforced, was a dead letter. This is a rather novel and untenable ruling, but it has had the good effect of awaking the Town Trustees to the importance of enforcing the law to the fullest extent, and it is very evident by the resolution to be found in another column, that the next person attempting to forcibly take hogs from the pound, will be tried on a more important warrant than one for a breach of the peace.

Teacher's Institute.

The Lincoln County Teachers' Institute convened at the Baptist Church here, last Tuesday. Commissioner J. M. Phillips introduced Col. R. D. Allen, of Farnham Military Institute, as conductor of the Institute, and the exercises of the morning were opened with prayer by Col. Allen. G. R. Waters was chosen Secretary, and Mrs. S. C. Trueheart, N. W. Hughes, Jno. L. Bosley and G. R. Waters were appointed a Committee on Programme. Col. Allen, after a few appropriate and amusing introductory remarks, gave an interesting lecture on Numeration and Geography, after which, the following teachers were enrolled:

R. R. Gentry, P. H. Idol, Miss Mollie E. Bosley, Miss Bettie A. Lewis, George R. Waters, John L. Bosley, William M. Boyle, N. W. Hughes, E. C. Cooley, S. C. Hedges, Miss Mary J. Newland, Miss Maggie Livingston, M. S. McCallan, Miss Maggie M. Cooley, W. R. Gooch, S. J. Davis, C. M. Young, R. B. Noel, W. S. Newell, R. B. Gooch, A. H. Butler, John W. Butler, R. D. Padgett, Thomas S. White, Miss Annie Bosley, Mrs. Sue Holmes, Miss Alice McClure, Miss Mollie Carpenter, Miss Amanda C. Brown, S. P. Gooch, James T. Holdam, Miss Naomi Fletcher, W. D. Dye, C. A. Smith, Thomas N. Roberts, W. P. Haines, Mrs. A. F. Helm, J. B. Balis.

Committee on Programme made the following report for afternoon exercises: 1st. Music. 2nd. Reading by Col. Allen, and discussion of same. 3rd. Mental Arithmetic, by S. J. Davis. 4th. English Grammar, by R. B. Noel.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The method of teaching reading was explained by Col. Allen, who answered numerous questions propounded, to the satisfaction of all. Mr. S. J. Davis, explained his method of teaching Mental Arithmetic in a manner that showed that he was well versed in the subject. R. B. Noel and Col. Allen discussed the best method of teaching English Grammar, which continued to the hour of adjournment.

WEDNESDAY MORNING. After devotional exercises and the reading of yesterday's minutes, Col. Allen proceeded to discuss the best method of teaching English Grammar, which was to teach the pupil by illustration with some subject, the various parts of speech and their relation to each other. R. B. Noel's method of teaching Common Fractions, was in full accord with the principles set forth in Ray's Arithmetic. Miss Mary J. Newland read a well written essay on Orthography, in which she favored the method of teaching spelling by writing. R. B. Noel also favored this method. Wm. Boyle explained decimal fractions and the best manner of teaching them.

ARITHMETIC PROGRESSION was the subject of Col. Allen's afternoon lecture, after which he proposed a number of Arithmetic questions, involving the fundamental rules, which were solved in an interesting manner. Miss A. F. Helm advocated the teaching of Geography by map drawing, which was commended by the Conductor and others. R. B. Noel said it was a favorite method with him to have his scholars imagine they were at various points on the globe, and write letters discussing the country, its cities, rivers, etc., and gave some interesting experiences on the method. Miss Bettie Lewis displayed considerable elocutionary power in her rendition of a happy selection, which was greatly enjoyed by the Institute. P. H. Idol analyzed a sentence according to Clark's method and then the body adjourned.

THURSDAY MORNING. After the usual opening exercises, Mr. A. A. Surber gave his method of governing a school, which was, first to acquire the confidence of the pupil; second, a general rule, do right; and third, be positive, but never tyrannical, taking care never to use the rod except in extreme cases. A number of teachers opposed this method, but Miss A. F. Helm, G. R. Waters and S. J. Davis considered that a number of rules and regulations were essential to good discipline. On motion, G. R. Waters, S. J. Davis and Miss A. F. Helm were appointed a Committee on Resolutions. T. N. Roberts explained that his method of teaching history was by topic, each pupil to explain a topic, and pupils to criticize each other, after which, Col. Allen gave a general lecture upon the subject. Then, after passing the following resolutions, the Institute adjourned sine die.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute be tendered to Col. R. D. Allen for the able and interesting manner in which he has conducted the exercises, and for his earnest interest in imparting instruction to the members of this body.

2d. That our thanks be tendered our worthy Commissioner as Chairman, for the kind and superior manner in which he has presided over the exercises of our Institute.

3d. That our thanks be tendered to the Committee on Programme, and to our Secretary, for faithful and efficient duties discharged.

4th. That we tender our thanks to the members of the Baptist Church for the use of their house of worship, and also to the Sexton, for favors conferred on this Institute during its present session.

NOTES.—Sixty cents was the amount assessed against each teacher to pay the expenses of the Institute. The male teachers were more than an average looking set of men, and the female far above the average in both beauty and accomplishments. A good many of the teachers grumble about having to attend the Institute, and long to have that feature of the Common School law repealed.

MARRIAGES.

WILSON—GOODE.—On the 17th, Horace S. Wilson and Miss Annella C. Goode were made one flesh.

CLEMENS—ESTES.—On the 16th, Burton Clemens to Miss Mary Estes. The bride is just 14 years of age.

DEATHS.

HALL.—In Boone county, Mo., August 5th, 1879, Mrs. Polly Hall, widow of the late Andrew Hall, aged nearly 93 years. Deceased was born in Virginia; came to Lincoln county, Ky., when 9 years old, and from there to Boone, about 30 years ago. Stanford, Ky., papers copy. (Columbia Mo.) Herald.

WHITE.—The telegraph brought the painful intelligence on Monday last, to his father, Mr. Robt. L. White, of this county, that Dr. Arthur L. White, after a sickness of a week or more, had succumbed to the fearful disease now raging at Memphis. During the epidemic last year, Dr. White was anxious to go and work for the afflicted, but yielded to the entreaties of his parents. He subsequently went to Memphis, and when the disease broke out this year, he devoted himself entirely to the sick, and it is thought that his over exertion caused him to become a ready prey to the scourge. Dr. White was a young man of fine promise, and his host of friends in this vicinity will be pained to hear of his death.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. R. H. Caldwell's meeting at Walnut Flat closed last night with no additions.

The latter had just returned from Washington, Mason county, where he succeeded in winning ninety souls to Christ. During his stay there he was without the valuable assistance of his sweet loved daughter, Miss Marie, but she has recovered from her sickness now, and left with him for Owensville, Wednesday, where they will hold their next meeting.
